Everything you'll need in one place

Ivanti Global Academy marries training content and services to provide a more effective and engaging learning experience. Some capabilities are available now, and others will roll out throughout 2018. With a subscription to Ivanti Global Academy, you can take advantage of each as it becomes available.

Training Content
Live Online Training	Short (30- to 120-minute) courses taught by one of our certified instructors via WebEx Training Center. They're scheduled repeatedly throughout the week so you can fit the ones you'd like to attend into your schedule.
eLearning Modules	Short, concise, and interactive computer-based training modules. They focus on the content necessary to achieve a specific set of learning objectives.
Informational Videos	View commentary or watch a feature demo from within an eLearning Module.
Reference Materials	Further explore the topic at hand via a convenient link.
Downloadable Content	Student guides and lab guides for each of the Live Online Training courses, quick reference guides, course brochures, and more.

Training Services
Role-based Learning Paths	Take the guesswork out of deciding which training is right for you. Enroll in a learning path(s) that aligns with your role in your organization to be enrolled automatically in each class that's part of that path.
Product Certification Exams	Becoming certified on Ivanti products has never been easier. Once you've completed training, you can take the exam from within the Global Academy ecosystem and receive your certificate immediately upon passing it.
Virtual Training Environments	Available with many of the Live Online Training modules, experience features of the product first hand as you learn about them. It's one of the best ways to acquire a new skill.
Group Discussion	Meet with Ivanti subject matter experts and other Global Academy subscribers in an open forum to ask questions, discuss scenarios, watch demos, and provide feedback.
Featured Webinars	Also known as "Let's Talk Technical" webinars, they run each month and feature popular topics for each product training group. Suggested topics from our subscribers are always welcome.
Gamification Mechanics	Bring a little amusement and friendly competition into the mix. Learning should be fun; and when it is, it can also be a lot more productive.
Self-assessment	How do you know when you're learning from your training experience? Check your comprehension with the self-assessment features in our eLearning modules.
Global Academy Store	Purchase certification exams, public training courses, and other miscellaneous items as a non-subscriber.

"The Service Manager Administration class we took this week was fantastic. My team learned A TON of valuable information, so much so I think I'll retake the class after I get more hands-on experience with the product. Fortunately, with Ivanti Global Academy, that's always an option. And as more content rolls out, I know my team will absolutely get the most out of our Ivanti investment. Some have already signed up for different sessions, including provisioning and patching, and we are all very excited."
